Eric Westover, Chairman, said, "This is the second year of this particular event and the participants that have registered quadrupled from last year. We've added some more activities and they'll be some free time to explore Pine Ridge and the town of Wautoma as well. We chose Pine Ridge because of its beauty and accessibility, but it also happens to be owned by a bi-lateral upper extremity amputee, which I thought was very fitting."

Westover is a below elbow amputee managing the organization in Minnesota. He can be contacted at 800-573-6329. He invites inquiries from amputees, their families, sponsors and donors. You can also go to the Foundation web site at www.UpperEx.org or email info@UpperEx.org.

The board of directors, most of whom are amputees, come from around the US to help the foundation promote awareness, advocate for amputee needs, provide vital social programs & services, and to raise funds for the organization.

The media is encouraged to attend the event and interviews will be available from participants and organizers throughout the weekend.
